

We are a 700 hundred member trade association for the home building industry in the Piedmont region of North Carolina. All of our members joined the association to have access to our services. One of our most important services is the timely provision of information. Our members want to hear from us. We have a clear business relationship with each of our members. Requiring our association to secure their written consent to send them faxes about info or services provided by us is ludicrous and shows a total lack of understanding of the fundamental reason for them joining this trade association. Our association joins ASAE and NAHB in strongly opposing the written notice requirement.
